Where are You From?

1. Some people are from the World. Their faith and worldview is based on the culture around them. They never find Jesus and they remain from the World.

Jesus is from God, which means He is God.

2. Some people are from the world, but they encounter

Jesus, believe in Him, and their home and citizenship is transferred to a new place, Heaven.

For a Christian, the question of our identity shifts away from “Where are you from?” to “Where is your Home?”

The things Jesus DOES is a good starting point for our faith, but it isn't a good ending point for our faith.

True followers engage Jesus in an ongoing relationship that transforms their lives from the inside out.

3. Some people are from the World, but they hope religion will get them a new citizenship in heaven. Unfortunately, religion isn't enough.

Our own righteousness will never be enough to get to God. We need Christ's righteousness through faith in Him.
